Josh: CRAP AN ELITE!

The elite walked up to him and signalled his squad to follow him.

10 Elites

4 Hunters

20 Jackals

50 Grunts

Josh: even with one leg this'll be easy!

Elite: HMPH! ATTACK HIM

The hunters were the first to fire their fuel rod cannons followed by the grunts needlers, The jackals fire their carbines and the elites fired their plasma rifles.

Josh: too slow

In a blink of an eye he was gone

Elite: Where-!

The elite stopped talking

The general elite turned around

General Elite: kren what's -!

the elites body was on the floor as was Josh's armour

then the hunters fell all four at once not by gun fire not by swords
no by explosions! :)

General elite: he fast but predictable

The general elite fired a shot

josh felt a sharp pain travel through his body from his leg

Josh: crap both legs gone his left leg was already gone but now his right leg was hanging on by a thread.

Josh: well then best end this quickly

Josh flew out of the bushes and with a single grenade blew up half the jackals and grunts

he took a carbine and killed 3 elites within a matter of seconds

The general elite appeared behind Josh and sliced his back with an energy sword

Josh collapsed on to the ground

Josh: shit, well it couldn't go on for ever

General elite: you fought well spartan. Shame you were a pity

Spartan: Joshua

Service tag: S029

Birth: 2511

Death: August 30th 2552

Details: Joshua was then on the UNSC Pillar of Autumn, in complete brevity until Covenant forces appeared above Reach. During the Fall of Reach, Joshua was assigned to Fred's team and designated as Red Three. As he and Fred descended to the surface of Reach, their Pelican, Bravo 001, was shot down by air artillery. Joshua attempted to activate the auto pilot of the Pelican, but all of its computer systems had been destroyed.[1] Joshua was, however, able to slow the vessel down enough so that the Spartans could make a "hard landing"; or jump out of the Pelican and land directly on the ground.[2]

Once he landed, Joshua found a Sniper Rifle and was the first Spartan to arrive at ODG Facility A-331, and spot Charlie Company. He then radioed Fred and the Spartans were able to regroup at the facility. Fred then ordered Joshua to recon the area. Joshua was the Spartan who spotted a Covenant landing zone and patched the image through to Fred using his COM.[3] Joshua, Fred, and Kelly then piloted Banshees toward the Gravity Lift of the Covenant cruiser and threw a Fury Tac Nuke into it. However, as the Banshees neared the lift, Covenant fired their Plasma Cannons at the Banshees, hitting Joshua's Banshee. He was last seen trailing smoke and losing altitude just before the Fury Tactical Nuke destroyed the area.[4]

Fred tried to radio to Joshua, but received no response.[5] The EMP given off by the nuke could be the reason why he received no response. He is currently listed as MIA and is assumed to be dead. He is one of the few Spartans to actually be MIA. (info halo wiki)
